Red Nose Day

It's Red Nose Day on Friday 19th March.

From Monday, children can purchase a red nose from their class teacher. These cost £1.50 each and it would really help us if the correct money can be bought in, where possible, thank you. Then, on Friday 19th March, we are running some events!

Sent with this Newsletter is a competition form inviting them to design their own red nose. This year the characters are all woodland characters. Can you think of another woodland character that would make a good red nose? Complete the Red Nose design sheet and send it into school, with 50p. There will be one winner in the infants and one in the juniors.

We are also running a second competition, which you can start this weekend. We want you to design a new super hero and think about what their super powers would be. You can draw a picture of your super hero and write about their super powers. Bring your design into school with 50p and there will be a prize for the best super powers.

You can also dress up on Friday 19th March. You could try to come in the reddest clothing that you can, or dress as your super hero – the choice is yours for a donation of £1.00.

We are also going to cover our walls in jokes to make each other smile. Have a think about your best joke ready for Friday 19th March.

All money donated will go to Comic Relief.

Resilience

The children in school have been working on building their resilience. Here are some examples of things they have found that help -

PE Lessons

For PE lessons, please can we ask that children come to school in uniform and change into their PE kits in school.
